EXHIBITION PRESENTATION

u2p050 is presenting its new immersive exhibition ; On ne peut empêcher les oiseaux... It offers the audience a dive into the multiplicity of views that coexist in the the world, be they human, animal, plant, mineral or technological.

Offering the public an experience that allows them to see and perceive the multiplicity of functions and visions that intersect, On ne peut empêcher les oiseaux... hopes to bring the visitor to tap into the philosophical concept of the multi-perspectivism, at a time when the ecological crisis is raging and the loss of sensitivity.

The site that inspired this creation is a remarkable bird reserve in the south of France. The studio carried on research to produce the exhibition includes visual and sound recordings of the activities that take place on the site.

The exhibition interconnects spatialized sound, VR, large screenings and a hand-made scenography to bridge nature and technology into a unique creation.

The exhibition was first shown in France this fall and welcomed more than 5000 visitors. It is now available for touring. It can be declined in several versions according to the available space.
