Immersive Mona Lisa Grand Palais immersif

The studio was in charge of all the interactive devices and part of the immersive videos projected.

"Immersive Mona Lisa" offers the public the opportunity to discover Leonardo da Vinci's famous masterpiece in new conditions, to travel through its history and to get closer to its pictorial surface. Composed of several sequences, the tour invites the public to go back in time, starting from the icon as it is today, to the first times of its creation, to better understand where Leonardo's genius lies and what makes this portrait still captivating five centuries later.

The Cenotaph for Newton VR Femme Fatale Studio

Production, conception, direction and making of a documentary series in Virtual Reality about architectural utopias.

A gigantic elephant in the place of the current Arc de Triomphe in Paris...

A monumental and poetic sphere dedicated to the scientist Isaac Newton... A transparent city suspended above Paris...

So many monuments never built, so many dreams left on paper.

Dream Builders takes you on a poetic and spectacular journey in Virtual Reality to the heart of architectural utopias.

The pilot of the series presents The Cenotaph for Newton, a spectacular monument imagined in 1784 as a tribute to the Utopia of the Enlightenment.

Little Nemo Femme Fatale Studio

One night, little Nemo is awakened by an emissary of King Morpheus: the monarch requires his presence as soon as possible. The child then follows the strange messenger into the wonderful and disturbing world of dreams: Slumberland... Created in 1905, "Little Nemo in Slumberland" is the first masterpiece of the comic strip. Today, through the magic of Virtual Reality, this animated fiction projects the public again, more than 100 years later, in the impossible kingdom of Slumberland.

Dream Builders: The Space City Femme Fatale Studio

The Space City is the second episode of our VR series "Dream Builders", a poetic and documentary collection that invites the public to explore never-built architectural projects in VR.

Imagined by Yona Friedman in 1959 then constantly reworked throughout the twentieth century, the Space City is a futuristic concept where a glass structure raised on pillars extends like a ribbon above existing cities.
